

THE TREACHEROUS VICTORY

Hi! I'm Sara. A long time ago there was a match in Ezcaba sport centre, Orvina vs Orvina, it was a final. In one team of that was my mum. It was an exciting match. The winner was the team of my mum but they won in the last minute. It was a prize, anyone knew which was the prize except the president of there and people was very nervous to know which was the prize. The prize was one week in Paris in a luxurious hotel. The team of my mum was very happy but the other team were very angry because they lose.

The day came and they went to the airport to catch the plane. They passed the control. When they were traveling there were several turbulences but they arrive very well. They were in a hotel, it was fantastic! But one girl of the team saw strange thing.

-Girls, girls look! There is the other team!

The team that lost they were furious and the team that won surprised when saw that the other team was there. It was a very strange thing! It was night and they had to go to the bed after a hard day of travel. All the team slept in only one room but the room was huge. At the midnight the team that lose went to their room and owned them. At the morning when they were so normal, as if nothing passed. They passed they day so normal but at the midnight of the next day the two teams band together and owned all people of the hotel. After, at the morning all the people of the hotel band together and at the next midnight went out to the centre of Paris to own all people. It was disgusting! At the next day all the city was owned. When the week passed they had to go to the airport but how they were owned they didn't leave them passing on. So they came back to Paris to stay there to all the life.
